Ralf Schmidt:
Picture "Expectation" (2012)

€2,460.00

A couple in anticipation of something they don't know will happen. The perspective tilted, centered but slightly offset circular area with vibrating dots, the motif with the people and the multi-layered background are equally weighted and allow the eye to circle through the picture. The picture shows an intense connection between two people. The drawing of the people was created after numerous sketches; the drawing is bordered on the right, from head to toe, by a diagonal line that shows a withdrawal and a looking back with the direction of the gaze, supported on the left and below by a vertical and horizontal line respectively.
