

Toni Nohe: Picture "Metamorphosis (diptych)" (2025)

€3,400.00

This diptych (90 x 65 cm each) is characterized by its versatile presentation. The two canvases can be hung horizontally or vertically, together or separately. This freedom is intended to encourage the viewer to rediscover the work again and again and to bring it into a dialog with its space. The color layers of intense red tones, interspersed with violet, blue and white, create a vibrant dynamic. They seem to oscillate between order and chaos and are intended to visualize the flowing process of transformation. The work addresses universal themes such as change and renewal. It is intended not only to set the space in motion, but also the thoughts and emotions of the viewer. The flexible presentation option invites you to integrate the work individually into your own context. Signed on the back.
