

Nicole Leidenfrost: Picture "These are not flowers" (2024)

€4,600.00

The artwork "These are not flowers" playfully explores the theme of "matter of opinion" and challenges the viewer to question their perception and interpretation. At first glance, the vibrant colors and dynamic shapes might remind you of a colorful flower meadow. However, on closer inspection, one realizes that these are not flowers, but a multitude of bulls depicted in different positions - some even standing on their heads. The bulls that fountain pen the picture seem to move in a confusing yet harmonious pattern. Their arrangement, sometimes upside down and in unusual perspectives, encourages the viewer to change their point of view and look at the picture from different angles. The cheerful, bright colors reinforce the effect of deception and create an atmosphere that is simultaneously confusing and fascinating.
