

Corinna Rosteck: Picture "Grado" (2003)

€3,500.00

Calm, reflecting water surfaces, gently and evenly undulating water, bubbling and splashing water. The eye seeks structure, rhythm. In the detail, in the extreme enlargement and in the deliberate inclusion of analog and digital blurring, the structures melt into amorphous illusions that seem very painterly, as if the camera had swapped brush and paint. The rhythm of linear structures flowing into one another creates an illusion of shimmering movement, which lends the pictures their remarkable liveliness.
